SEVENTH-DAY ADVENTIST
Rufus B. McDannel, Pastor
Sabbath School Lesson No. 7
Aug. 6-12, 1972.
Subject: Who not Any Day?
Scripture Text --"Ye shall not add unto the word which I command you, neither shall ye diminish ought from it, that ye may keep the commandments of the Lord your God which I command you."

The Word of God by precepts, promises, and illustrations repeatedly stresses the fact that God requires implicit obedience to His commands. They were given for our good both here and hereafter. These divine guidelines are needed more than ever in this time of permissiveness and situation ethics. It is commonly believed that it makes no difference which day in the week a Christian observes as the Lord's day and that the main thing is that he keep one day in the seven as sacred. Many declare that it matters not whether one keeps any day ... But let none conclude that God has left it to man to determine which is the right day to keep.

The invitation to come, and worship with us is still extended to all denominations. Before Christ's Second Coming. The gospel must be preached to every nation kindred and tongue. Remember: each day brings us nearer our heavenly home. May we all be ready when He comes.

First Baptist

Services were held at the First Baptist Church Sunday at 11 a.m. Rev. Hilary returned Sunday after spending his vacation in Florida and New York. He said he had a wonderful time visiting relatives and friends. He preached an inspiring message, a report from the subject "With God all Things Are Possible." It was enjoyed by all.

On the fourth Sunday in August, Aug. 27, 1972, at 3 p.m. Rev. Moore and the Fifth Street Baptist Church will be here for the church anniversary. The public is invited to come. We were happy to have Mrs. Ella Brown out Sunday. Mr. Hudson Steven was still in the hospital, is wished a speedy recovery. Miss H. B. Stevens is improving nicely. We hope she will soon be home. Mrs. Bessie Watson and Mrs. Louise Watson and granddaughter are spending their vacation in New York. Prayer services will be this Tuesday night. Everyone is invited.

LAY WITNESS MISSION TASK FORCE MET AUG. 7th
The task force of the Lay Witness Mission to be held September 8, 9, and 10 met Monday night at the Memorial United Methodist Church.

Attending the meeting were Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Wright of Marian. Va. Mr. Wright, who will be lead coordinator of the Lay Witness Mission, assisted at the meeting in answering all questions the local task force had concerning the week end program.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Wright are members of the Mount Carmel Methodist Church in Marion where he is Superintendent of the Sunday School and she is the church's first woman Lay Leader.

During the week end gathering laymen from churches throughout Virginia and parts of North Carolina will meet with the congregation and witness for the people their closer relationship with Christ and the church through past Lay Witness Missions. Twenty to thirty adults and teenagers are expected to attend.

The program will include two family suppers, worship meeting and religious singing, numerous coffee hours in homes of the congregation, discussion groups and prayer. The entire program will be run by the members of the church and laymen from other churches.

Chairman is Robert Earl Pankey. Co-chairman is Mrs. Gladys Moon. Local advisor-coordinator is Jim Smith. Anyone wishing further information is welcome to call any of the above persons.

Automated Driver License Testing System Planned

Virginia's Division of Motor Vehicles announced today that final plans are ready for construction of an automated driver license testing system which will score applicants electronically as they drive their cars around an enclosed course.

The system will be developed by the Singer Company's Simulation Products Division of Binghamton, New York, and will be installed at the Hampton, Virginia DMV Branch Office. Virginia's Motor Vehicle Commissioner, Vern L. Hill, said, "This driver license testing system will be the first of its kind, and will modernize our testing facilities in Virginia. We will be able to test each applicant more thoroughly and impartially than ever before, under realistic conditions. No longer will we have to venture onto crowd streets and inconvenience the Hampton motorist. The applicant will also be more at ease, and give a better example of his driving ability."

An electronic sensing and transmitting device will record each applicant's action as he negotiates the course in his own car. Aradio receiver will be placed in the applicant's action as he negotiates the vehicle so that the instructions can be given by the examiner, who will be in a control tower. The tower will afford a complete view of the course, and no examiner will be needed in the applicant's car.

Additional sensing devices will be placed in and along the road bed to determine whether the applicant drives within the proper lanes, at the required speeds, comes to a full stop when indicated, and parks correctly.

As each applicant drives around the course, he will encounter signalized intersections, a sweeping curve, a "railroad crossing" whose signal lights may be flashing, various other signal lights, and appropriate warning and speed limit signs.

The applicant's compliance with the requirements of each situation will be monitored electronically. Results will be tabulated by a computer in the control tower from which examiners will be able to overview the whole range, supervising as many as half a dozen cars at one time. The new range is a joint project of the Division of Motor Vehicles and the High way Safety Division. The National Highway Safety Administration had provided the funds for this pilot program, under the Highway Safety Act of 1966.

Commissioner Hill said, "Electronic devices also will be used to administer a driver knowledge examination which each applicant must pass before he is given before he is given the practical driving test. The test will be administered by projecting a series of color slides picturing actual traffic situations. On the screen will be multiple choice questions concerning the picture, which the applicant will answer by pressing buttons. The answers will be electronically scored and recorded."

"The device, which teaches as it tests will inform applicants after each question whether they have answered correctly, thereby reinforcing their driving knowledge. This system not only is more efficient that customary written test, but also more economical with its use of small comfort from the Highway Safety Director's thought, as expressed to the Assembly, that the limit be increased to 70 miles an hour and that studies and analyses could be made to see if it had "any effect ... on crashes, injuries, or deaths". This will be of little consolation to the dead and maimed.

Dedication At Brookneal

The Union Hill Baptist Church, Route 1, Brookneal will have a Dedication Service of new facilities, including a Sanctuary and Educational Wing, on Sunday, August 20th, at 11:00 a.m.

The church was organized in 1786 and was first housed in a wooden building. In 1885, a new frame church building was dedicated. This building has stood proudly through the years, serving as a house of worship and spiritual renewal for its members and friends.

The new facilities include a sanctuary with a seating capacity of approximately 300, a pastor's study and church offices, library, kitchen and fellowship hall, and eleven Sunday School rooms.

The Dedication Service will begin in the old church building at the 11:00 a.m. worship hour with the pastor, Rev. David. E. Brooks, leading the worship service. An "Exodus" from the old church to the new will take place and the Dedication Service will conclude in the new Sanctuary.

Guests for the service will include a representative of J. E. Jamerson and Sons, Contractors, and Rev. O. G. Bernette, a former pastor. Special music will be presented by the combined Adult and Teen Choirs.

As the congregation moves into the new facilities, they will begin a new program including Departmentalization of the Sunday School.

Union Hill is proud of its past and looks forward to a glorious future of love and service to her Lord.

Blind Persons Will Get I.D. Cards From VCVH

The Virginia Commission for the Visually Handicapped (VCVH) announces that the next picture taking session for personal identification Cards for legally blind Virginians will be held in Lynchburg, Tuesday, August 8, 1972, Staff members of the Virginia Division of Motor Vehicles (DMV) will set up their Polaroid Camera equipment at the Lynchburg DMV office located at 520 Aleghany Avenue from 10:00 to 11:00 a.m. Legally blind residents of the Lynchburg area will get their Personal I. D. Cards at that time.

This is the first time the identification cards have been issued in this area. Individuals who have applied have been notified and if you have not made application, there is still time to do so. Any legally blind resident of the Old Dominion can get an identification Card. Just write to the Virginia Commission for the Visually Handicapped at 3003 Parkwood Avenue in Richmond. The zip code is 23221. If an applicant is on the Register at the Commission headquarters, his form will be completed and a notice sent out as to the place and time to appear. If the individual is not listed on the Register, he or she will be contacted by a representative of the VCVH to get the necessary information.

The Personal Identification Cards are very similar in appearance to a Driver's License and can be used for identification and check cashing just as a sighted Virginian uses his Driver's License. They come in a laminated holder and are issued free of charge. The Cards have a color photograph of the individual, his signature, his MRA number and other pertinent data.

As one applicant said after getting his Personal Identification Card, "Now I am a first class citizen." Mr. William T. Coppage, Director of the VCVH was the first Virginian to get his Personal Card. He hails the arrangement as an example of what can happen when two State Agencies work together.

It must be emphasized that the DMV cannot issue an I. D. Card on its own. The applicant must be legally blind and must be accredited by the Virginia Commission for the Visually Handicapped. Apply directly to the Virginia Headquarters in Richmond.

SAFE DRIVING TIPS

Can parents learn a lesson from their teenage sons and daughters? Apparently so, since a survey conducted recently indicates that twice as many teenagers as adults use seat belts. Parents should take a cue from their kids in this matter.
